1. Jet-assisted take-offs with various types of aircraft were observed at the airfield. Jet aircraft, which were stationed at other fields, occasionally landed at MOSCOW-KHILKI.

2. A structure (see Annex), called a V-1 missile launching site by [redacted] was observed at the northeastern edge of the airfield. The launching of missiles was never seen. [redacted] believed the structure to be a test station for rocket jets fixed to the aircraft but he could not prove his assumption.

25X1A		Comment:

a. The MOSCOW-KHIMKI rocket testing station was previously reported

b. Rocket jatos were previously observed at the KOSCOM-KHINKI airfield. The observation tower test station was also previously reported.
